BURLEY HOUSES

To Open in December to Receive Crups

Directors Meet of Saving of $750,000 Through Air-Drying of Green Tobacco—Membership Close to 75,000 Mark Set as Goal

Receiving plants of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association will be opened to receive the 1922 crop some time between the first and the fifteenth of December, according to information given the members of the Board of Directors of the Association, in regular monthly session at Lexington last week, at which all the directors were present. They heard a report on the expense of marketing the tobacco of the members, which with every possible item of cost added will not exceed 75 cents a hundred pounds, as contrasted with a probable average of $1.25 a hundred pounds for the growers who sold outside the Association; learned that they had increased the value of their tobacco $750,000 by proper grading and air-drying, and listened to a brief on the feeling and eloquent contrast of conditions prevailing now in the Burley district and those which existed in the crop year of 1920-1921 by Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, who also reported to the directors on the success of the dark tobacco growers in forming their cooperative association.

Judge Bingham said that some of the leaders of the movement in the dark belt, when they learned that lack of money was keeping out tenants on their farms, raised the money required by the tenants and loaned it to them.

The report of Chief of the Field Service Division, William Collins, showed that the Association now has 73,265 members and that it is likely the number will exceed 75,000 by the time contracts being signed this week and next Monday are in.

Humphrey, Robinson & Company reported an audit of the books to Chairman W. H. Shanks, of the auditing Committee, who read the report to the directors. It showed every cent received accounted for and that the expense of warehouse operation for the year was $2.61 a thousand pounds and of warehousing and grading $0.48 a thousand pounds.

Of the 54,000 bushels sold to the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company 13,749 bushels had been delivered, President Stone reported. Mr. Stone also said that three of the big tobacco concerns are ready to buy the tobacco of the association as soon as it is delivered.

What Does

"Subluxation" Mean?

When a nerve is pressed upon by a vertebra in the spinal column it is called a subluxation of the vertebra

The Chiropractor, by adjusting this subluxated vertebra, relieves the pressure on the nerve which runs through it; by so doing he gives me a chance to build up the affected part of the body.

Life force is nerve energy. Stop the normal flow of nerve energy and life force is hindered.

The Chiropractor relieves the pressure on the nerves, the life force flows freely normally.

Book Notes

The American novel emerged early in the 19th century as the romantic story—a high exponent of this style is the "Last of the Mohicans." A change both in material and in method of treatment since the days of Cooper is apparent to the most casual student of American literature.

Perhaps O'Henry most definitely marked the change, and since his time the story written chiefly for story interest has found its material largely in the common realities of life.

The following authors are outstanding figures in this field of writing and are well represented on the shelves of the Woman's Club Library.

Select any one of these writers when next you visit the library.

Ingraham Lovell, (Mrs. Bacon),

Mary Roberts Rinehart, Zona Gale,

William Allen White, Gene Porter,

GARRARD

DEMOCRATIC

Goes Back to Fold by Small Majority

Gilbert's Majority 63 in County

Probably one of the quietest elections ever held in Garrard county was held here last Tuesday, little interest being manifested and only about one-half of the total vote cast.

Congressman Ralph Gilbert carried the county over his republican opponent by a majority of 63 votes. Two years ago Swope carried the county by a majority of 573. This year about 3,000 votes were cast, while the 1920 election brought out a total vote of 5,500.

Gilbert's immense majority in the district is virtually a landslide, reaching probably 5,000 more, he carrying every county in the district with the exception of Casey and Adair, and possibly Madison. The following counties gave him handsome increased majorities: Mercer, 400; Anderson, 550; Boyle, 780; Shelby, 1,800; Lincoln, 715; Spencer, 770; Jessamine, 500. Indications are that Madison goes republican by a small majority.

Eleventh Month

Eleventh Day

Eleventh Hour

The three events will be observed in Lancaster and throughout Garrard county on Saturday, Nov. 11th, at 11 A. M., when all the church bells of the county will be rung, and all whistles will be blown in memory of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice in the great world war. All business houses are asked to close for the five minutes and the citizens in this county are asked to stand one minute in silent prayer at this time, were requests made by Post Commander H. J. E. Edwards of the Hendel-Sanford Post No. 35.

An Armistice celebration was planned to be pulled off in Lancaster on Nov. 11th, at which time the local High School foot ball team was to have played a game of ball and take great part in the celebration. However, it was impossible to arrange a game between any team for Friday and from the fact that the game of foot ball to be played will be staged in Lancaster, Ky., Nov. 11th, at 1:45 P. M., this celebration was called off by Post Commander Edwards and R. H. Hays, Chairman of the Program Committee and the members present at the meeting Tuesday night. It was further agreed to assist the school in calling off this celebration in order that everyone who can will have a chance to go to the foot ball game Saturday.

Pie Supper

Every Legionnaire and ex-service man in this county are asked to be present on this night and bring with them their wives, sisters, fathers and mothers and PIES. This is for a worthy cause and it is the duty of every citizen to go out to Paint Lick and help this worthy cause.

Office hours 9 to 11 A. M., and 2 to 5 P. M.

STILL IN DOUBT

Control of Next House May Fall to Democrats

The country today is watching with great interest the nip and tuck race for control of the next house of representatives, which seems to be the closest since the war days of 1916. The election Tuesday saw what at one time seemed to have been a democratic landslide, it saw scores of men, brought in by the Republican wave two years ago, go out with the Democratic undertow.

Control of the next House continued in doubt, with the Republicans leading 214 to 203 on returns received up to one o'clock this morning. The 16 remaining districts, scattered throughout the country, held the key to the necessary 218 majority, with the prospect that the final result might not be known until Thursday afternoon with a half dozen votes to the margin. The Republicans held the Senate, but by a reduction of a half dozen votes.

Republican casualties, which broke with the first returns Tuesday, defeating Governor Miller and Senator Calder of New York, continued with somewhat lessened force Wednesday as returns trickled in. They told of further Republican losses in the Senate and house, and governors and state legislators, although the indicated congressional results were somewhat more favorable to the Republicans.

Among the additional Republican stalwarts who went down to defeat on Wednesday on additional results were Senators Kellogg, of Minnesota, beaten by Dr. Hendrik Spratt, Farmer-laborer, and Senator Townsend of Michigan, the latter losing to former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, the first Democratic senator to be elected from Michigan in 70 years. Also definitely defeated, by Senator Kendrick, Democrat, was Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican door leader, who aspired to the Senate.

Lodge Wins by 8,425

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, finally turned out, had a plurality of 8,425 over his Democratic opponent, Colonel Gaston, instead of the 1,915 reported early Wednesday. Through a transposition of figures in the Associated Press tabulation Senator Lodge's plurality was shown as being reduced to 1,945, and other news-distributing agencies in some manner arrived at the same figures.

Loss of control of the Senate by the Republicans was not threatened, although they suffered a net loss of six. Eight Republican senators were defeated, but this the party countered by defeating two Democratic senators, Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Pomerene of Ohio. The Republicans had carried 14 and the Democrats 19 of the 35 senatorial contests. Of the five still in the balance, Democrats were leading in all: Montana, Utah, New Mexico, West Virginia and Washington.

Woman's Club Notes

Children's Book Week beginning Nov. 12th, will be observed by every Woman's Club that is 100 per cent in community service.

Mothers of our town are asked to call Saturday afternoon and examine the books that the Club recommends for young children. The shelves are full of stories of fairies and flowers and animals and children of histories and of poems. And somewhere between these children's fairy tales that never grow old, such as Alice in Wonderland, and adult reading such as the "Bringing Up" and the "Story of Julia Page," these are books that are particularly suitable for young people not ready for the latest fiction. The Library is fortunate in offering these splendid stories for our boys and girls.

"Call of the Wild," "Daddy Long Legs," "Emmy Lou," "The Enchanted Barn," "Freckles," "Gray Friar's Bobby," "Girl of the Lumberlost," "Jungle Tales," "Just David," "Laddie," "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," "Molly Make Believe," "Pendred," "Seventeen," "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm" and "Gentle Julie."

In Practically All Parts of Country Excellent Exhibits Are to Be Attractive Features—Animals May Be Purchased.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Exhibits of improved livestock and poultry at county and state fairs this year promise to be unusually interesting, according to information received by the United States Department of Agriculture from many sources. In practically all parts of the country excellent livestock exhibits are to be attractive features of fairs. The attention which breeders and farmers have been giving to good livestock, combined with good feed and care, have resulted in some exceptionally well-bred and well-fitted animals.

In encouraging farmers to take advantage of the opportunities which fairs and livestock exhibits give for observing improved livestock and poultry the Department of Agriculture places emphasis on the following points: Livestock displays afford an opportunity to study breeds and types and to see a large number of good animals. In the case of most animals the size, conformation, and uniformity are worthy of special study in view of increasing tendency to raise purchased and high grade stock as market animals as well as for breeding.

Partners attending livestock displays obtain useful information by meeting others who are interested in superior breeding and feeding methods. Besides the ideas exchanged and information gained, new enthusiasm for the work may be purchased at most fairs though a rule it is more satisfactory for a farmer to purchase animals at the home of the breeder than to buy little animals at fairs. Animals that have been prepared for exhibition usually are priced higher than untrained ones of similar quality and breeding.

CAREFUL IN CRANKING TRUCK

Before cranking the engine, the driver of a motor truck should be sure the spark lever is fully retarded and that the gears are in neutral. If it is attempted to crank the engine with the spark lever advanced, the chances are that the engine will backfire, possibly resulting in a broken arm. Furthermore, if the driver succeeds in cranking his engine when it is in gear it may start and run over him and be the cause of considerable damage to the truck and other property as well.

MEANING OF THE WORD VEAL

Departments of Agriculture Frequently Called Upon to Decide Between Veal and Beef.

There seems to be marked variation of opinion as to what is meant by the word veal. Ordinarily, when one hears the word uttered, he thinks of the carcass or meat of a young bovine. In most cases this conception of the meaning of the word veal is sufficient and it can be dismissed from the mind without further consideration; but, when one is called upon to state just what constitutes veal, there may be some difficulty experienced in determining when a bovine carcass is or is not to be regarded as veal.

Departments of agriculture are sometimes called upon to decide whether or not a rather heavy carcass should be classified as veal or beef and the decision conforms to the conclusion of authorities on the subject, which is as follows:

Calf carcasses weighing less than 300 pounds, with comparatively light-colored, fine-grained flesh, are classified as veal.

Love Handed Down

Mother-To-Be,
Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. With the Little One arrived, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, Dr. George T. Smith, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend," Mrs. J. Hartman, Benton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, but they had no time to attend to my children. I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we didn't have time to get a doctor because we wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

She writes: "The valuable free illustrated book 'Mother and the Baby' containing important information which every expectant mother should read, is given to each member of the Parent-Teacher Association. 'Mother's Friend' is sold by drugstore members."

as stated in last week's paper. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Zack Hester on the first Saturday in December. All members are asked to bring their silk quilt squares and their other quilt squares. The topic for discussion will be "The School Lunch and Clothing for the School Girl."

Noise and Production.

Men and bees are much alike. They give up a mighty small quantity of honey in proportion to the amount of noise they make.

With That Proviso.

It gives a man a great deal of happiness to witness the pleasure of others—when his profits amount to at least 10 per cent.

An Early Start.

English Paper—He read the marriage service and heard the bride and bridegroom exchange their vows.—Boston Transcript.

Good Way of Looking at It.

If the weather doesn't happen to be good for my work today, it's good for some other man's, and will come round to me tomorrow.—Dickens.

Looking Death in the Face.

Tough does not frighten me now. I think it is like taking chloroform; don't struggle against it, hold the hand of a friend, and it is no half bad with its promise of rest for me and heaven for you.—From "Words in Pain," letters written by a dying Englishwoman to her doctor.

Tribes of Indiana Marquette Met.

The first reference to the Missouri tribe of Indians made by a European was by Marquette in a letter written in 1673 to La Merle, his father superior, as Indians "who use canoes of wood." On Marquette's map appears the name and location of the "Ou Mes-soure."

Directed Energy.
Then there is the man who seems destined to go through life hitting his thumb on the back while trying to hit the nail on the head.

Wild Cinnamon.
Although the cultivation of cinnamon in Indo-China is increasing, most of the product comes from the wild shrub. When a native discovers a cinnamon tree he must make a declaration before the local administration.

Ancient Culinary Ideas.
Some of the early ideas of delicacies would not appeal to the modern taste, nor would such methods as some Roman cooks applied to the red mullet, which was cooked while alive in a glass vessel on the table.

Too Late.
A French scientist says that in order to attain a ripe old age it is necessary to sleep in a due north and south position. We may die young but we will keep right on sleeping on our right side, all curled up with our knees under our chin. It's too late for us to start now worrying whether or not we're pointed north.

Early Dabblers in Dentistry.
The first physician to speak of treating the teeth is Galen (131-200 A. D.) The science of dentistry, however, may be said to date from 1839, when Prof. Richard Newton pointed out "the organic connection between the vascular and the vital soft parts of the frame and the hard substance of the teeth." His work appeared in 1840-1845.

Needed at Home.
Little four-year-old Gerald lives next door to a woman who owns a big Scotch collie. The dog's name is Prince. One day, Gerald, hearing his neighbor call Prince, helped her look for the dog, but was unable to find him. An hour later Gerald saw Prince. Running to the dog he cried: "Go home, Prince, 'cause your mamma wants you."

No Badge of Dishonor

A city paper lays stress upon the fact that a great many of the criminals of this country are of foreign birth.

The editor of that sheet might also have stated, with justice, that hundreds of thousands of our best citizens are also of foreign birth.

There are two vital causes which contribute to the present state of lawlessness on the part of certain foreigners now resident in this country.

First, our immigration laws are entirely too lax. Foreigners are admitted without proper investigation as to their characters in their own lands.

Second, upon arrival in this country the foreigner, unable to speak our language, is practically turned loose upon an indifferent public, to become a good citizen or a curse to us as his inclinations and past training may lead him.

What we need is a system whereby a foreigner can be taken in hand upon arrival and converted into a good citizen.

If we are lax in our methods of treating him when he first comes to us, we should not be surprised if the criminal element of our population gains an ascendancy over him before he has familiarized himself with the benefits to be derived from good citizenship.

The possession of a foreign name is by no means a badge of dishonor, either in this or in any other country.

Use Your Bargain Eye

A merchant doesn't spend money merely for the purpose of seeing his name in print. He is too much of a business man to part with his dollars unless there is a good prospect of securing a legitimate return upon his investment.

He doesn't advertise goods that he cannot recommend, because he knows that such an imposition upon the public in a country town would soon put him out of business.

He doesn't gouge his customers, because he knows they would soon go elsewhere and buy for less money—and that would mean an end to him.

It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that when he does advertise an article that article is worth having and the price is within reason.

When you buy from a local merchant that merchant's reputation for square dealing is behind the goods you buy.

Keep these common sense facts in mind, and use your bargain eye upon the advertising pages of this paper and the merchants who use them.

Make Them Make Good

In many parts of the country the American people have spoken at the polls, and a new grist of public officials are coming into office.

If they keep only a small portion of their campaign promises they will make history as no other officials have ever done before.

Making promises comes easy to a candidate. It is part of the game.

Forgetting them comes quite as easy to the elected official. That, also, is part of the game.

But now that the elections are over, and new officials are entering upon their careers, the public should be as prompt in reminding them of their promises as they were prolific in making them.

Put the boot on the other foot and see how long it can be worn.

MUCH INTEREST

Manifested in Revival at Presbyterian Church

The revival which began last week at the Presbyterian church continues with increased interest, services being held each afternoon and evening, the auditorium being well filled on each occasion.

The sermons of Rev. S. S. Daugherty are being well received and full of thought and thoroughly enjoyed by his audience. The choir under the leadership of Mr. Allen W. Culey, is one of the outstanding features of the meeting and is composed of the best talent in the city. The meeting will continue throughout next Sunday and perhaps longer, if the interest continues to increase.

The boys will meet at their room at the parsonage two Friday evenings a month.

Miss Evelyn Daniels will lead the Epworth League Sunday evening. The service will be at six, giving plenty of time for the members to go to the revival service at 7:30.

Wednesday evening at seven the prayer service will resume the studies in the Sermon on the Mount, the topic being "The Spirit of True Prayer." Matthew 6:5-8. We are having good attendance and interest.

Come to the service Sunday morning. If you do not worship elsewhere we cordially invite you to make this your church home. You will find it a place of faith and fellowship. Enroll in a Sunday School class, take part in the Epworth League, enjoy the helpful hour Wednesday evening and be with us in the morning and evening hours of worship.

In Memoriam

It is truly said that, "Death rides on every passing breeze And lurks in every sunny flower."

Just one year ago the white-winged messengers from the Celestial City wafted the spirit of Alexander Campbell Miles to the God who gave it. How we miss him, but we know that our loss is Heaven's gain. We do not mourn as those who have no hope—for he sleeps to awake on the resurrection morn and will stretch forth his hands to take us back with him to the God he loves. As a husband he was true and faithful to the end; as a father he was tender, loving and kind; as a friend and neighbor, no community was ever blessed with one better. "O death, where is thy sting?" "A grave, where is thy victory?" The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." The memory of him and his good works will always be with us. Truly it can be said of him that he "lives dead yet speaketh."

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep."

Where none ever wakes to weep, A calm and sweet repose.

Who only those in our love knows."

Loads of Liquor

Prohibition Agent William Kinnard

And Deputies Capture Liquor

At an early hour this morning William Kinnard, prohibition agent of Lancaster, with deputies passed thru Danville on route to Lexington with two truck loads of very fine real liquor. The parties who had the liquor was being hauled through in the two large trucks. It is not known just how much liquor there was but the quantity must have exceeded two hundred cases. Agent Kinnard and his assistant recently made a big haul at Perryville when ten whiskey runners heavily loaded attempted to pass through that city. It is thought the haul last night was made some miles west of Perryville. Many think that the liquor which was seized last night was from the Rugby Distillery near Louisville. Danville Advocate.

Modification by Misrepresentation

Mr. Charles Scarritt, of Pittsburgh, recently answered in a very concise fashion some of the misrepresentations of the anti-prohibitionists, and is worth while to summarize his statement, under the caption "Fact and Fiction."

Fiction—Prohibition was hastily passed.

Fact—No question ever levied in Congress was agitated over a longer period or better understood.

Fiction—Prohibition was the work of a minority.

Fact—Before national prohibition became effective thirty-four states had gone "dry," three-fifths of all the people were living under prohibitory laws, and four-fifths of the United States territory was "dry." Moreover, Congress submitted the amendment by a two-thirds vote, and only two states, with less than one-fifth of the population, failed to ratify it. Fiction—Prohibition was decreed by American soldiers who returned from the army.

Fiction—More sugar is consumed than before prohibition.

Fact—Before prohibition the distilleries produced annually one hundred and sixty-eight million gallons of spirits, and 1,400 breweries manufactured 1,885 million gallons of beer. Today a mere fraction of this enormous flood of a tax-free liquor is being produced, with imports equal to less than one-half of one percent of former years.

Fiction—Prohibition interferes with personal liberty.

Fact—So far as law commands.

Fiction—Prohibition cannot be enforced.

Fact—It is being enforced, or the law and order would not be so great.

A reader of the New York Times, when entering to the anti-prohibition element, was asked the other day by a reader the following questions which he has not undertaken so far to answer:

"Do you give preference to drinking men over employing them on your staff or in your office?" "Do you believe a man's use of alcohol tends to produce character?" "Would you be in favor of the engineers on your train taking a generous drink before starting, and not about the train dispatcher?" "When should he take his drink?" "When should the doctor do it?" and "Is it wrong?"

Henry Ford knows the answer, if The Times doesn't. "Natural Method."

LUNGARDIA stands high above all preparations in quickly removing tough and toads. "Deep-seated toughs and toads are a menace to the LUNGUS." ### Buckeye High School Notes

Clara May enrolled in High School Monday.

Geo. Bailey, a former pupil of Logan's Chapel enrolled Monday.

Robert Davis, a Freshman, is spending a year with friends in Indiana.

Julian Warren, of the Sophomore class spent the weekend in Louisville.

Miss Lucille Sanders, a member of the Freshman Class was in Lexington Thursday consulting an eye specialist.

The faculty and members of the school gave an entertainment and Masquerade in the Auditorium of the High School building Monday evening, Oct. 26th. An interesting program was given by members of the school, assisted by local violinists. The room was very beautifully decorated with Halloween colors of black and yellow, autumn foliage, black cats and jack-o-lanterns, which gave a very weird appearance. A prize for the best masked couple was presented to Miss Roberta Ray and Bryan Wilson. Refreshments consisted of peanuts, home-made candy and frappe. A large "fortune cake" decorated with black cats and witches was presented to the school by Mrs. Jess Hill. The ovens so travel to be one of unusual pleasure and a neat sum was raised, which will be used for school equipment.

Scotch "Howlers."

Here are some new "howlers" quoted in the December, the magazine of the Edinborough Provincial Training college. "Socrates died of an overdose of o'clock." "A mosquito is an insect with a pounce. Its stings itch until it retired when hard pressed." "An olympic is a short, snappy race." "The winter term on the two steep and winding roads is very interesting."

Illustration: "A howler."

Fact—Treats of every kind, even by the injurors, will not make men more patriotic, candid, and honest.

Fiction—The law cannot be enforced.

Fact—It is being enforced, or the law and order would not be so great.

Congressman Ralph Gillett, of Shelbyville, spoke here last Tuesday night in the interest of his campaign. He gave some interesting facts pertaining to the tariff measure, also to some of the other recent bills which have been passed by the present administration. He was introduced by Hon. J. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dunn are returning over the arrival of a little visitor who recently came to their home.

Tom O'Hearn recently sold his farm containing 160 acres to Ernest Clay Walker, of Lancaster for $560 per acre.

Mrs. Courtney Roberts attended the Silver Tea last Tuesday given at the home of Mrs. Campbell, of Bryantsville.

One of the most unique Halloween parties ever was given by the Rev. P. E. down in Rock's Bend Tuesday evening. Messrs. Homer Rice and Thompson of Sanders went ahead of the party to prepare for their coming. The location selected was a little valley which is surrounded with high red walls, fringed with oaks. The setting was ideal, carrying one's thoughts of witches and ghosts. The brightly burning fires cast their shadows about, adding to the weirdness of the place. The remainder of the party arrived at six o'clock and were enchanted with the weirdness of the scene. The party brought with them chicken, apples, nuts, etc. Mr. A. J. Rice was principal chief, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Gosney. The supper was cooked in the natural oven and was served at eight o'clock. It was enjoyed immensely. One of the most enjoyable features was the witches booth, where the lads and lasses and the bachelor girls had their fortunes told. All were well pleased with what was told them. They departed—a merry group, singing their society yell, which was soon brought to a stop by the contending with gates, rails and brush which had been put across the road by some mischievous youngsters.

In Assam the woman who tires of her husband and prefers another companion simply calls her husband to her. They sit down and have a perfectly friendly chat, and she offers him a sum of money in exchange for her freedom. The husband then pockets the money and departs. In a few days his place may be taken by another, but this does not even cause a comment in the "smart set" of Assam.

Prayer.

More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. Therefore, let thy voice also like a fountain for me night and day. For what are men better than sheep of goats that nourish a blind life within the brain, if, knowing bad, they lift not hands of prayer both for themselves and those who call them friend? For so the whole round earth is every way bound by gold chains about the feet of God.

Divorce Easy Matter in Assam.

In Assam the woman who tires of her husband and prefers another companion simply calls her husband to her. They sit down and have a perfectly friendly chat, and she offers him a sum of money in exchange for her freedom. The husband then pockets the money and departs. In a few days his place may be taken by another, but this does not even cause a comment in the "smart set" of Assam.

WATER TANK NOW IMPORTANT ITEM

Unhealthful Mud Puddle Which Affected Stock at All Times Has Been Abolished.

CONCRETE MAKES BIG CHANGE

Any Farmer Can Build Device Similar to One Shown in the Illustration of He Will Follow Instructions Given.

The day of the insidious, unsanitary mud-hole water tank in the barn lot is a thing of the past.

American farmers, who in the old days struggled against the worst possible conditions in the care of their stock, today have available for their service the most modern methods known to the building trade.

A water tank, often considered of odd and minor detail in farm equipment, now is recognized as an important item in the health of farm stock and farm occupants.

Formerly a breeding place for germs, vermin and mosquitoes, the site of the unhealthful mud puddle which affected stock both summer and winter now can be spotlessly clean, dry and sanitary.

Principal Requirement.

While the principal requirement of a water tank is, of course, that it be watertight, sanitation and permanence also must be considered. Concrete tanks when properly constructed fulfill all of these requirements at a reasonable first cost, with practically no upkeep expense.

Any farmer can construct a water tank similar to the one shown in the picture if he follows these instructions.

The forms, which should preferably be one-inch material for a large tank, should be prepared so far as is possible before concrete work is begun, then excavation is made about one foot below the ground line of an area a little larger than the proposed tank. If the site is not well drained it may be well to excavate a little deeper. A base of clods or gravel is then tipped into place and upon it a bed of concrete about six inches thick of a mixture of one part of cement, two parts of sand and four parts of gravel is laid.

As soon as the concrete has hardened so that it will support some weight, the forms for the walls of the tank are put in place and the filling made as rapidly as possible.

A ready mixture of concrete, preferably one part of cement, one and one-half parts of sand and three parts of pebbles or broken stone, is used for this work, and enough help and material should be available so that the entire wall can be constructed in one continuous operation.

In order to make the bottom watertight, the inner forms should not reach to the concrete bed first laid, but a twelve gap should be left and a layer of concrete equal in thickness to this should be placed so as to be continuous with the concrete in the walls.

Reinforcement Needed.

Reinforcing is, of course, necessary and it is well to have this made "I" shaped and set in the concrete so that the steel extends up into the walls. Bars bent at a right angle should also be placed at the corners, with straight rods extending horizontally in the ends and sides of the tank.

Though not shown in the illustration, a concrete pavement five or six feet wide around the tank is desirable.

It can be cast separately and made not less than six inches thick of a 1-2-4 mixture.

HOGGING OFF THE CORN PAYS

Plan Regarded as an Economical Method; Cattle or Sheep Clean Up Much Left.

It is the consensus of opinion among farmers that hogging off corn pays and this fact is borne out by results at most of the agricultural experiment stations. Should you have pigs weighing around 100 lbs to turn in to the corn, you can expect the pigs to gain a pound a day or better when fed a pound of shorts or a half pound of tankage in addition to corn hogged off. With pigs of this size in hogging off corn, they can be expected to consume from five to seven pounds of corn daily. It is an economical method of harvesting an area of corn and if not kept in too late in the season, the cattle or sheep will clean up much of the leaves not touched by the hogs.

Just another report of a case in Lancaster. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Lancaster with Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

W. H. Conn, prop. of garage, Lancaster St., Lancaster, says: "I had trouble with my kidneys. I took Doan's Kidney Pills and found them the best medicine I could find. I had typhoid fever before that and I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. I would get spells of back-ache and was lame in my hips. I could hardly sleep over my back hurt so I heard a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and made up my mind to give them a trial. It wasn't long after taking Doan's until I was rid of the trouble. Since then I have taken a few more whenever I have felt my back getting weak and they have always straightened me up in good shape."

REPORTS ON WEATHER HELPFUL WITH BEES

Notable Success Achieved by Wisconsin Beekeeper.

Enabled to Ascertain When Conditions
Are Suitable for Late Flights of Honey Gatherers in Late
Autumn Months.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Weather reports issued by the United States Department of Agriculture have been used with notable success by a Wisconsin beekeeper in the hunting of bees in fall and spring. By keeping in touch with the local office of the weather bureau at Milwaukee, he learns when weather is likely to be mild enough for late flights of bees. In the fall before they are put into winter quarters and for early release in the spring.

Honeybees develop dysentery and other serious disorders if kept in the hive too long in winter. This is due to the fact that they will not void their feces while in the hive. It is, therefore, important to shorten the season of housing as much as possible without running into danger of freezing weather or high winds which scatter the colonies. It is better to sacrifice to give the bees a cleaning flight just before housing.

This aphorism has found that he can expect a satisfactory temperature for flying between November 5 and November 20 practically every year. In a recent autumn there was such temperature November 12. As the official forecast was for much colder weather, he housed his bees November 10. The temperature dropped steadily and reached zero December 1. The month of December was the coldest in 30 years. Other beekeepers, not using the forecasts, left their bees out until about the middle of December with resulting damage.

Last spring he received a special forecast April 1 announcing that the following day the temperature would be satisfactory for flight. He set the hives out that night, and the following day the temperature went up to 71 degrees and the bees had a "glorious cleaning flight."

SWEET CLOVER FOR PASTURE

Biennial Plant is Excellent to Use in Rotation—Acre Will Furnish Feed for Caw.

Many farmers have found the biennial white sweet clover an excellent pasture plant to use in rotation. Some have successfully used a rotation of corn, oats and sweet clover. The sweet clover planted with the oats, lives over the winter after oat harvest and comes on the next season. Where it is successfully established, it is found that an acre will pasture a cow for a whole season in a good sweet clover section, and furnish her an abundance of feed. In this plan the essentials for success with sweet clover are to lime the land enough to grow red clover well, plant 20 pounds of scented sweet clover seed to the acre and inoculate where neither sweet clover nor alfalfa has been grown previously.

Permanent pasture in some sections may be improved by this treatment; that is, by flattening the permanent pasture and plowing the pasture in the condition, as suggested by the farmer who has tried this plan.

INJURY BY JAPANESE BEETLE

Foliation of Many Fruit and Shade
Trees Damaged by Immense
Number of Insects.

The Japanese beetle was much more abundant during the present season, and over a wider area. Serious damage to the foliage of many trees was caused by the immense number of beetles, especially fruit trees and certain varieties of shade trees, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. There was important injury to early fruit, particularly early apples and early peaches.

Composition of Dust.

Dust is made up of particles of unburned carbon from smoke, fragments of wool, cotton and hair, living organisms and finely divided mineral matter. All are constantly being cast into the air and they slip through cracks of houses and settle. After billions of particles have fallen, we say the floor is dusty.

"Yuletide."

The etymology of Yule conclusively proves the pagan origin of this pleasant old Christmas custom of the Yule festival. The feast of the sun god Thor always celebrated on sun day at the winter solstice was termed Gwyl, the significance of which was the end of this year. Yule is a corruption.

Photographing the Stars.

It has been recently found that photographs of stars down to the sixth magnitude or degree of brightness can be taken in broad daylight so that astronomical photography need no longer be confined to the night. If the stellar photographs are taken through a deep red screen the stars appear distinctly.

What is a Drought?

According to an official definition which has been in use among meteorologists for over thirty years, an absolute drought is a period of more than fourteen consecutive days not one of which is a rain day. A rain day is a day with 0.1 in. or more of rain. Ten inches of rain means 100 tons to the acre. A partial drought is a period of more than 28 consecutive days, the mean rainfall of which does not exceed .01 in. per day.
